FINE BILLIARDS BY FOSS.

HE DEFEATS THRESHIE OF BOSTON IN OVERWHELMING STYLE.

Again Makes a Run of Over One Hundred. but Fails by One Inning of Ticing the World's Amateur Average Record -Smith Beats Conklin in the Afternoon.

Wilson P. Foss of Haverstraw, who owns a dynamice factory and whose nerves are therefore like iron, played a great game of billiards against Charles Threshie of Boston in the Class A Championship tournament of the A. A. U. in the theatre of the Knickerbocker A. C. last night. The New Englander was left at the half way mark and had only scored 195 points when Fess completed his string of 400. The winner was in magnificent form. After a rather slow beignning he began to warm up to his work and put in some big sized When the men faced the table Foss won the bank and took the spot ball, but he failed to connect on his opening shot. Threshle started off with 8 and kept the lead on even innings until the eighth, when Foss stipped in a run of 55, which gave him command by 73 to 45. Three innings later the Boston man pushed up 16 buttons, fol lowing with 14 and 15, all of which enabled him to forge ahead again. He turned the first century the next time at bat in the lead by 101 to 88, but Foss passed him in the fourteenth with a break of 34. He asked for the thirty fifth shot, but the referee would not allow it. Both men were play ing rapidly, and with not a moment's hesitation Foss was patrucularly well warmed up at this and point began to take advantage of the hard way the balls were rolling for his opponent. His styteenth inning yielded 40 carrows and he came right back in the seventeenth with 57 more. These gave him a lead of more than a hundred points the score standing 220 to 116 in his favor.

The Boston man pulled up a bit in the next few sessions, but the ivories continued to act unkindly and his runs were small The scor was 246 to 165 at the opening of the twenty sixth inning when Foss, starting with a good set up, got in another fine run. He caught the balk line nurse at 35 and did not have to make a drive until his sixtleth shot. Then he kept the balk hustling up and down the short rail from the left corner of the lower table, and with now the left corner of the lower table, and with now and then a short masse or a single cushion bank shot rapidly pided up the points.

His eighty eighth count sounded suspiciously like a "push and Threshie claimed a foul, but the referce didn't hear him and Foss went right on playing. His hundredth count was widely cheered, and keeping the balls still in the lower left corner was apparently in shape for another hundred. His opponent looked resigned and lighted a cigar. Foss got 106 and then missed a single cushion shot by a hair, leaving him only 48 to 80. He failed to beat the high run of the tourney, 115, held by him and also the world's best amaleur average. 14 22 27, made by Mo-tourney, 115, held by him and also the world's best amaleur average, 14 22 27, made by McCreery last Tuesday night.

The Haverstraw expert, however, had a good, excellent chance to tie McCreery's average and he began his twenty seventh inning in a way that promised well. After setting out for a difficult position on his thirty seventh shot he had the balls nicely bunched in the upper end of the table, but he failed to drive the balls out of balk and missed his chance of their the record. He and missed his chance of tieing the record. He scored his 400 points in the next inning, leaving Threshie at 195, the Boston man finishing with The scores.:

C. F. Conklin of Chicago was out-lucked by J. De Mun Smith of St. Louis, whom he met in the afternoon game. Had not the winner been favored by a couple of lucky "scratches" in the last 100 points, however, the finish might have been of the hair-raising order. Conklin made the pace at the start, scoring a run of 13 in his opening inning. Smith went to the front in the sixth, but the Chicago man passed him in the eleventh with a break of 25. Conklin increased his lead in the fourteenth with a run of 38. They blugged along at an even gait until the twenty-first inning, when the Chicago youth put in a fine run of 44, his highest during the tournament. This made the score 166 to 72 in his favor.

Smith here took off his collar and necktie and went at the ivories as though he meant business. He was unable to pick up very much until the twenty-ininthinning, when he scored 24, and came back in his next time at bat with 25. Both played poorly for a time and then Smith gathered a bunch of 26 in the thirty-sixth inning, which left him only five points behind his opponent. Conklin drew away again with runs of 8, 6, 4 and 22, but Smith secured the lead in the forty-first inning, aided by a rank scratch. He made a miscue of his ninth shot, but the cue-ball went to the cushion and, coming back, counted. He continued for a total of 54. The score was 292 to 272 in his favor.

Conklin passed him again in the forty-fourth inning with a run of 38, but stopped short after that. Smith flushed strong with runs of 17, 11, 18, 3, 5 and 44, but he made two or three more scratches in his last hundred points. The scores:

A DEEP-SEA FROLIC.

Amateur Tars Compete on the New Hamp-

The spar deck of the old United States battleship New Hampshire, lying at the foot of East I wenty-eighth street, was the scene of a deepsea frolie by the members of the First Battalion of the Naval Reserve last night. The novel character of most of the events sufficed to draw a large crowd. The temporary grand stand was filled with guests, and many of the amateur tars who took no part in the competitions reviewed the sport from the beams above the desk. The entertainment was held for the benefit of the athletic fund, but despite the fact that the glory of victory was the only reward of the winners. each of the competitive events was fought out with a stubbornness seldom seen when prizes are offered.

The greatest interest centered in the tug-ofwar, in which each of the four divisions entered teams. The men were so well matched that three trials were necessary in each preliminary round to decide the contestants for the final tug. The fourth division team, on which the Crawford brothers, both New York A. C. oarsmen, pulled, won the final by the slight margin of one and a half inches from the sec-margin of one and a half inches from the second division.

There was a flerce melée in the final of the single stick contests. The opposing teams wore plumes of different colors. It was a case of "when you see a head, hit it," and the men of the first division carried the idea out so thoroughly that after two minutes of hard fighting the red streamers of the fourth division were scattered on the deck, while only one of the victorious team was despoiled of his

The narrow space to which the contests were confined rendered the horse wrestling a dangerous pastime, and the competitors in the second bout had a narrow escape from injury. The four men engaged toppled over together, and the mounted ones just escaped coming in contact with the bulwarks. Summaries follow: Sack Race-Wen by F. Smith, Third division; P. Dwight F. Davis Offers a Cup for International Matches-English Players Coming. The annual meeting of the United State National Lawn Tennis Association was held last night at the Waldorf-Asteria. The advisability of changing the rules The advisability of changing the rules governing the championship tournament was discussed. Some of the members thought it unfair that the winner of the all-comers' tournament should be compelled to meet the champion the next day. It was suggested that the tournament should begin on Monday instead of Tuesday. The matter was referred to the Executive Committee with instructions to try and find a way of letting a day lapse between the final of the all-comers and the championship match. The championship will be played at Newport as usual.

There were good scores in a number of well contested shooting events declared yesterday on the grounds of the East Rutherford Gun Club. The feature of the day was the match between Henry Heffleck of Hackensack and Max Adams of East Rutherford. Handicapper T. F. O'Brien of the Metro colitan Association of the A. A. U. completed the task of allotting starts to the men entered for the K. A. C. games and everything is now in readiness for the crack of the starter's pistol in Madison Square Garden to-night. The many entries for the 50-yard handicap will necessitate eight preliminary heats Arthur F. Duffy of Georgetown, the national 100-yard champion, is on scratch. He broke the 60-yard record at his last appearance in Madison Square Garden when the race was run over rough dirt. The handicapper has allowed a liberal limit of fifteen feet on the champion, but has taken good care of those who have established reputations as fast sprinters.

The local crack, A. H. Kent of the Pastime A C., has an allowance of only two feet, but he is moving in fine form and is almost as quick as Duffy in getting away. A good race between the pair is anticipated. W. S. Edwards of the K. A. ., has seven feet, F. Flores of the Xavier A. A., eight feet, and Charles McClelland, K. A. C., nine feet. Among those favored with fifteen feet are W. H. Barelay, Joseph Pollard, D. C. Haring and Robert Hutcheson, K. A. C.; W. carry. Figuring roughly on the dimensions of the spars, each will carry about 7,000 square feet of canvas. This is considerably more than that of the Athene, the 70-footer built by Herre shoff last fall for Mr. V. O. Gay.

The Athene has a shorter boom than the nex boats, a shorter topmast and her mast is stepped extreme length. They are 14 inches in diameter at the head and 15%, inches in diameter at the at the head and 15³, inches in diameter at the heel. It is 57 feet from deck to hounds and 14 feet in the masthead. The topmasts are 47 feet 4 inches long a 48 % inches in diameter. The howsprits are 25 feet 8 inches and 10 % inches in diameter. The boom lengths are 75 feet with a 12 inch diameter. The gaffs are 42 feet 9 inches long, 8 inches in diameter and the spinnaker booms are 58 feet 3 inches long. The No 1 topsail yards and clubs will be each 36 feet 3 inches long, the No 2 yards will measure 35 feet 4 inches and the club 27 feet 3 inches. Since these hoats were originally designed, some slight changes have been made in the general dimensions.

Originally they were intended to be 65 feet on the water line, now the general dimensions are 70 feet on the water line, 106 feet over all, 20 feet beam, 15 feet draught. They have long easy lines and a graceful sheer. The overlangs are not as long in proportion as those of the Columbia but the new boats have more beam in proportion to their size than the successful Cup defender. These boats are of composite construction, have bulbed steel angle frames, are singled planked below the water line and double planked above.

A movement is under way to organize a club among the players who use the public links at Van Cortlandt Park. It is believed that such an organization will bring out a better caddie service and lead to a number of other needed reforms in the regulation of the links. The organization, too, will arrange for a series of regular competitions for its members and those who use the links. Park Commissioner Moebus and Thomas Bendelow, the Golf Superintendent at Van Cortlandt, are in full sympathy with the plan. The committee on organization includes H. E. Brown, J. H. McKinley, R. W. St. Augustine Feb. 9.—Enthusiasm ran high over the professional play to-day. Willie Smith, the champion, played his first game on the course and his work attracted a large "gallery." Those entered were Willie Smith, George Low, Bernard Nicholls, Willie Hoare, Joseph Mitchell, Dave Findlay, George Merritt and J. M. Inglass. Alexander Findlay was expeted, but wired that he could not leave Falm Beach. All started well, but it was early seen that the battle would be between Smith, Low and Nicholls. Dave Findlay die good work on the first and last rounds, scoring 40 and 41, but his second and third rounds brought up the total. Nicholls and Hoare started the tournament with good drives. Last night at the Clermont avenue rink, Brooklyn, the "Poly Prep" School and Pratt Institute High School sevens met in the semi-final match of the shut-out series for the championship of the Long Island League. The work of the two sevens was much better than is generally witnessed between schoolboy teams. The skating was fast and serimmages were frequent. Robinson and Commiskey of the "Poly" team did exceptionally elever work at goal and point, and it was through their efforts that many of the fast shots by the Pratt forwards were stopped. The goals were scored as follows: R. La Montagne (2), M. La Montagne (2), Bertenshaw (2), Kernan (2), all "Poly" players.

The semi-final round in the tournament of the Long Island Interscholastic A. L. was started yesterday when the Pratt Institute High School team met an overwhelming defeat at the sticks of the "Poly Prep" School seven by the score of 8 goals to 0. The Pratt boys were heavier and larger in every way, and were looked upon as sure winners, but the "Poly" players had received splendld coaching since their last match, when they signally defeated the Brooklyn Latin School team. Racquet.

Boston, Feb. 9.-Payne Whitney and Austin Potter won the first match in the amateur racquet tournmament in doubles at the Boston A A. to-day, owing to the default of F. F. Rolland. the Canadian champion, and his team mate. T. S. Gellespie of the Montreal Racquet Club, Rolland was summoned home by the illness of his young daughter. In order not to disapexpectation of seeing a match, Messrs, Rolland and Gellespie met in five games with Messrs, Whitney and Potter. The Caradians did not play nearly as good a game as their opponents, and the latter defeated them four, out of five games by the scores of 15-7, 15-7, 15-10, 12-15, 15-2.

games by the scores of 10-7, 15-7, 15-10, 12-15, 15-2.

It was in team work that the Potter-Whitney combination excelled and the latter kept up his good work of yesterday in his turns at service. Mr. Rolland put up a much better game than did Geilespie and his service was particularly brilliant at times. In the fourth game, on his fourth turn at service, the Canadian champion scored eight successive nees, tying the score and winning a deuce game, nearly all the points being due to the masterly skill he displayed in serving into the corners where it was impossible for his opponents to make a return. Whitney also pinced a number of aces to his team's credit by his strong service and Fotter backed him strongly with some clever placing. Holland and diellespie were apparently out of team practice, for they frequently obstructed each other and collided once in the centre of the court.

There is a possibility of the doubles tournament not being finished, but this will not be settled until to-morrow. Besides the entries of the two Canadans, and the team that defented them to-day, there were only three other teams entered; G. R. Fearing, Jr. and I. H. Stockton, E. and H. Scott and Paton and Pastine.
